Predictable Struggles of Lesbian Relationship

by Sherry McHenry

Definitions: Predictable means inevidible
Psyco-dynamic process means mental processes
Developmental process means life-stages
Conscious logic - stuff I know in my head
Unconscious logic - out of my awareness
Intamacy - -the outcome of me being who I am with you hoping for possitive out-growth

Life-Long Issues

Dependence vs Independance
Being Alone vs Being merged w/someone

We always pick a partner unconsciously
- -seeking to become whole (wellness)
- -we pick what we know (emotionally) someone similar to me
- -we seek denied aspects of self
- -we seek someone who will help us become our whole self the positive + negative
- -we seek someone to help us stay the same + to change agreeing to help eachother grow
- -someone who presents us with unresolved issues
- -we seek our ideal parents; seeking original sense of oneness merge
- -seek our ideal self
- -trying to create a better family than our own but always making family just like our own original (fami

Each relationship repeats stages of physical human development

Stages

Honeymoon stage -- 24hrs. to 3yrs.
-- the stage of fusion + merger -- so in love -- we project our ideal self + ideal parent on the lover (loved one) -- we tend to loose sense of who we are

Oh-Oh Stage -- you are not the person I thought you were
-- we really are not fused/one -- I am alone -- reality sets in -- unresolved identity issues come up again
(typical reactions: Denial or Bail-Out / Disillusionment
We try harder to please + win approval
Or we leave -- We have an affair (affairs are reaction to partner)
Or we begin to fight -- coersion -- power struggles
Or we can begin to grow

Growth -- means taking back the myths + projections resolving all old issues in self, with parents,
-- I must know and accept myself before I can know + accept you.

Issue of fusion vs sepratness
We are mother to eachother and we have little sex
Fusion is death = symbiosis = co-depence
We each have expectations of being taking care of (co-)Dependcy means I only know I'm OK if you tell me so I only know who I am if I'm with you

We resent our partner who has something we want for our self.
Pleasing behavior comes from "one-down" position
-- the one we're pleasing is "one-up"
-- it makes us feel helpless

How do we have sex when we've been told all our lives that it's is bad -- wrong

Partner always has the same identity issues I do

The problems will always be the ways we deal with our mutual fears of fusion

Problems always relate to issues with us + one parent

The way you define relationship problem is the way the problem will be -- self-fulfilling prophecies

Partner will always be a co-conspiritor to keep me from facing myself

Face our own homo-phobia

Healthy Tips

Allow each to feel + go through whatever is needed

Say "do stop what's happening -- let me feel this"

Agree to look at and question repeated scenarios

Give each other space -- physical + emotional

Set up structure for sharing, talking, get through something one is going through

MIA Workshop
UFMCC

Why do people come to MCC for the first time?
What brings people into MCC?

- to be honest with God
- out of curiosity -- to see what it's like -- is it a safe place where I could be involved
- to see if it is open to discuss all aspects of human sexuality
- due to dissatisfaction with the Catholic Church or other main-line churches..
- due to an inner desire for personal integerity
- seeking opportunity to do personal ministry in same place that gave me growth and ministered to me
- seeking a place where I didn't play hipocrite

Basic Reason
- Healing -- to reunite self and ministry
- Coorisity -- to see what it is like
- Validation -- I need to know I'm OK + that someone else says I'm OK
- To Please Someone else

Why do people leave MCC?

- to go back home -- to home church to integrate + educate
- membership at MCC too intense -- too familiar
- too healthy at MCC -- we challeng ourselves to grow confront our homophobia
- there's no place for them (we have our ways set
- Unrealistic expectations -- or unmet expectations + fears
- Burnout

Why do we want them back?

- We didn't mean to push them out
- we like them + we miss them
- they need us (we are scary to them because we're healthy)
- We want larger ~~number~~ numbers -- we need them for our reasons
- A broken relationship needs attention

What do we do? How do we get them back

- listen to them so they feel cared for
- be methodical and thoughtful and consistant

God Advice

We all need to go through a 12-Step program even if only for the knowledge of the material as a resource a way to help

Be firm about setting limits and setting perameters and enable people to take responsibility for self -- some people need to be shown the door and asked to go home

Learn to count the cost -- way, long + short term consequences

Dear Friends and Loved Ones, you are welcome here today to share with Maggie and Jimmie the affirmation of their Love. We rejoice that you are part of this celebration.

This day marks a new beginning for them, as they have come together to make a covenant to walk in the Light of the Spirit.

The Hegher Power has given them the gifts of freedom and committment. The Spirit enables them to claim these gifts so that they can now go forward with Joy and Love.

Caroline sings "Timeless and True Love"

Marlene → Maggie and Jimmie have chosen to make a covenant. Now witness their committment to each other

Jimmie says

Maggie, I love you and I want to give you the best of who I am and who I am becoming. I chose to live in this covenant with you. I know that the journey may not be easy but I live better when I live with you.

I promise to work, to play, to dream with you, and to do my best to make those dreams come true.

I promise to share your tears and your laughter and allow you to share mine.

I promise to respect the need of both of us to have separate space, and to come back to you as I trust you will come back to me.

I promise to respect you and to celebrate the ways you are different from me.

I promise to forgive you as we have been forgiven when we have failed to live up to our covenant.

Marlene → Maggie and Jimmie have chosen to make a covenant. Now witness their committment to each other

WRITE

When I was a little girl I tried listen to my mother and my grandmother on my father's side talk about the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit was like a long lasting friend, was a guide, The Holy Spirit had a presence that was quite and graceful. I concluded long ago that she was QUITE like, so I wanted to meet her. I would meet her on pentecost sun I decided I would dress get up for the occasion. I wondered if I needed a helmet to wear with my dress. I had on laced socks, they were blue and white, like my dress. I wanted a helm where would I find one? . . . . .

My mother ~~had~~ put bows and barrets in my hair. I had a two pony tails one in the top and one in the back. A helmet would never fit. . . . .

So the day of pentecost came, I still didn't have the helmet. I was all excited and ready to meet her. It was a pretty day The sun was shining. No Rain in sight. I was ready. My sunday school teacher talked about the Holy Spirit. I was in church for 11:00 oclock service.
I sat close to the front.

Rev. Austin started his sermon and he really preached about The day of Pentecost and how the sky rained fire and I was reminded I didn't have my helmet on. I looked up . . . it was ok.

after service I thought about ~~that~~ earlier that day. I didn't remember meeting The Holy Spirit face to face but I remember feeling real special cause I knew when I was old enough I would see her.

God when it did happen she was as light as a feather, as beautiful as a butterfly and she ascended on my being as mighty as a morning breeze. Welcome Holy Spirit
